Bank Stock Dividend Declared

For the second time in less than a decade, the Bulloch County Bank will declare a 100 per cent dividend on Capital Stock to all stockholders of record if the recommendations made by the bank's Board of Directors is accepted by the stockholders.

The Capital Stock will be raised from $100,000 to $200,000 and the funds will be paid from the bank's Undivided Profits and Reserve Funds.

A similar 100 per cent stock dividend was declared in 1951 when the bank increased its Capital Stock from $50,000 to $100,000.

The announcement was released this week by Wallis Cobb, president of the Bulloch County Bank and comes not only as news of interest to the stockholders and customers of the Bulloch County Bank but reflects an economic and financial picture that is a credit to the entire community which the bank serves.

In commenting on the announcement, Mr. Cobb said: "As we look back to April 14, 1954 when we began with $50,000 Capital and $6,750 Surplus and see our growth to where in 1954 we were able to pay a 100 per cent stock dividend, increasing our Capital Stock to $100,000 and within these four short years to declare such a dividend raising our Capital Stock to $200,000, well, it's a milestone and an accomplishment in which we feel we can all take pride. Our customers and friends have been good to us as we have tried to serve our community. And now as our bank and as our community grows, we look to the future with even greater plans for our continued progress."

A regular cash dividend of 10 per cent and an extra five per cent dividend will also be paid by the bank on December 15th. Deposits in the Bulloch County Bank on December 1st stood at $4,500,000 with total assets running to five million dollars.

Officers of the bank include: W. G. Cobb, president; T. J. Morris, vice-president; J. Brantley Johnson, cashier; and Thomas F. Howard, assistant cashier.

Directors are Walter Aldred, Jr., A. C. Bradley, W. G. Cobb, Leode Coleman, Claude A. Howard, George M. Johnston, Fred T. Lanier, Charles M. Robbins, Jr., Thad J. Morris and Harry W. Smith.

Let's Fight Infantile Paralysis

The annual March of Dimes will soon be upon us, together with other efforts to raise money for the fight against infantile paralysis.

We don't know how you happen to feel, but the picture of little children, broken and crippled for life, worries us. Anything that the people of this country can do to prevent such tragedies, regardless of cost, is worth while.

We hope that the people of Bulloch County, despite the many calls that come to them for financial help, will not overlook the importance of their contributions to the war against this dread scourge of childhood.

December 7th

December 7th should never come and go without bringing back memories to every American. How many times have people asked you, "Where were you that Sunday morning in 1941—December 7th?"

It was one of the great tragic and testing moments for the American people. Fortunately, it was a surprise attack there were no nuclear weapons and we were given a chance to recover from our surprise and defeat and come back to win.

Today we face an enemy and a weapon from which there may be no such opportunity in a new crisis. It is a sobering thought, much talked about but nonetheless we remain badly unprepared.

Christmas And Shopping

This editorial may serve as a last reminder for mothers, sweethearts and friends—shopping gifts to overseas servicemen—to act immediately.

But it is primarily concerned with other advice. Shopping is one of the great dilemmas of many Americans. Christmas has become an ordeal for the big family or the family with more obligations than money. But there are remedies.

Turn to the home-made or hand-done Christmas gifts if you are caught in the pinch. It is nice for those who have plenty of money (or enough) and time, and who enjoy giving, to buy gifts for a host of people each Christmas. The act of giving is truly divine, and so one can't argue that it's all commercialism.

However, some poor souls find themselves afraid to send cards, or give presents, because of habit, or fear of receiving them, and strap themselves financially trying to keep up with the Joneses, year after year. This is not the purpose of Christmas, nor the spirit.

Mutual arrangements can be made to limit the cost of presents. Or it can be agreed that they will be made, cooked, or baked, etc., by the giver. Or services can be given. One need not strain himself, or herself, just to compete in the rat race. It takes individual initiative and courage to make a change. But intelligence will out, and people and time, and who enjoy giving, to buy gifts for a host of people each Christmas. The act of giving is truly divine, and so one can't argue that it's all commercialism.

LET'S LIVE TODAY

By Maude Brannen

ABOUT A LODE-STAR

"I have always had one lode-star. A need, a trust, a yearning after God."

The magi were priests of the religious system of Zoroaster. The Arabs and Persians worshipped Mazda, the goddess of light, and were monotheistic in their belief. The religion of Zoroaster ruled in Arabia and Persia for 2,000 years until it was overthrown by Mohammedanism in the seventh century.

One of the most thrilling of the Christmas stories is that of the wise men, or magi. They were great astronomers and also astrologers, and spent much time studying the heavens. They knew the prophecies of the Old Testament, because the Jews had spent many years as captives in Persia.

According to astronomers, No-vae, or new stars, appear every seven hundred years, and the cause of this phenomenon is not known. Is it the breaking up of an old world, or the making of a new? We know so little about the secrets of endless space where universes and suns, far larger than our own little world, reign in all their glory.

This new Star of Bethlehem could have been a Nova, or it might have been a conjunction of two great planets, looking like a single star. This wonder takes place once or twice every 1,000 years, while continuing the task of doing away with bad habits in Persia, taking their toll from the winners, dumping all losses at the feet of the poor prodigal.

You don't have to give up everything you like in order to have fun and be young at eighty. Listen to all advice, then if some of the things you like are a little sinful, go ahead because doctors take seriously the task of doing away with bad habits in Persia, taking their toll from the winners, dumping all losses at the feet of the poor prodigal.

The drawing boards of the realists on which you were sketched, nor of your neighbor or competitor so why admire your own creator and to whom they followed it.

You may never meet him who lights the stars at night or blows them out at dawn but if you can laugh, forget and forgive, life will not have been in vain. The most worthless day of your life was the one on which you did not laugh, forget and forgive, life will not have been in vain.

They ended their long trek and found a Baby whom they worshipped and to whom they gave gifts: Incense, because he was God; gold as a king, and myrrh as to a dying man. With prophetic eyes they saw Him on Calvary! "They went away rejoicing" because they had found what they sought so tirelessly. They were

ESTABLISHED 1892
SERVING BULLOCH COUNTY... A LAND RICH IN AGRICULTURE, INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY AND PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE
STATESBORO, GA., THURSDAY, DEC. 17, 1959
PRICE TEN CENTS
69th YEAR—NO. 44

1st Methodist Christmas Play

Sun., Dec. 20

Opening services will be held in the new building of the First Methodist Church on Sunday night, December 20 beginning at 7 o'clock.

The pageant will be given by the adult and youth choir and the Youth Fellowship of the church. It is under the direction of Miss Jean Brooks and Jack W. Bruckner, director of music. Narrators will be Mrs. F. D. Russell and J. B. Trotter.

C. A. Sorrier and B. B. Sorrier are in charge of the lighting arrangements. Chairman of the costumes are Mrs. W. H. Smith, Jr., and Mrs. J. H. Strickland. Mrs. A. B. McDougald, Mrs. Don Thompson and Mrs. Southard Deal are in charge of the decorations.

The church is a form of Gothic architecture built without exterior buttresses with the roof being supported by two rows of interior arches. Exterior walls are of Tennessee quartzite with window frames, arches, doorways, copings and other trim of Indiana limestone. The interior is of limestone, plaster and oak paneling and has exposed ceiling beams of California redwood. The altar is of white Vermont marble.

Every detail of stone and wood and glass has been planned and executed with consideration not only for its individual beauty but also for its role in the whole structure. The result is an outstanding example of traditional ecclesiastical architecture.

A prominent feature of the building is its magnificent stained glass windows. These were created by the Henry Hunt Studio according to a plan developed by the pastor. Nave and chancel windows present an outline of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. Those in other sections of the building are either of Biblical subjects or lovely studies in color and design except the sacristy window which is of the Wesley—John, Charles and Susannah.

Another feature is the richly carved oak turnings built by the Southern Oak Co. Of special interest are the pulpit carvings of the symbols for the four evangelists (Matthew, Mark, Luke and John); the carvings of the twelve apostles and the organ screen carvings of four Biblical musical instruments (flute, harp, lyre and trumpet) and the cover for the baptismal font.

The room on the second floor of the entrance tower has been furnished for use as a place of private prayer and meditation and will be known as The Upper Room.

Walter H. Aldred, Jr., a member of the church, was the architect and Benning Construction Company was the general contractor. Chairman of major committees were Lannie F. Simmons, plans and construction; J. B. Johnson, finance; J. Clyde Mitchell, arts and furnishings. Hoke S. Brumson was chairman of the official board July 1958 through June 1959, and George S. Johnston has served as chairman since July of this year.

Special books giving a detailed description of the building and its furnishings have been printed and will be available at the opening service.

The W.S.C.S. and M.Y.F. of PORTAL are sponsoring a holiday ball to be held in the high school gymnasium, Monday evening, December 21 from 8 to 11 p. m. All members, family and alumni are invited and may bring any guest of their choice.

Highlighting the evening will be the presentation of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Moore, Jr., selected by the student body prior to the dance. A court will be composed of the eight runners-up, four boys and four girls. In addition to an entertaining program, valuable door prizes will be given away.

Rev. J. Robert Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Statesboro, was elected chairman of the executive committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention at the annual meeting held at Georgia Baptist Hospital, Atlanta Tuesday.

Dr. A. Judson Burrell, pastor of the Rose Hill Baptist Church of Columbus, was named vice chairman of the committee. Dr. E. Smith, pastor of the Atlanta Park Avenue Baptist Church was re-elected recording secretary.

Planting Affects Allotment

How recent legislation affects the determination of farm cotton allotment for future years was explained today by John P. Bradley, Administrative Officer for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office.

For 1961 and future years, according to Bradley, the new law requires that, in determining farm cotton allotments, the farm cotton allotment for the preceding year shall be used as the "base" if at least 75 per cent of the farm allotment for that year was planted to cotton or regarded as planted to cotton. Therefore, the acreage planted to cotton or regarded as planted to cotton for 1960 must be at least 75 per cent of the regular (Choice A) farm allotment to preserve the entire allotment as a base for 1961.

Acres may be "recovered as planted to cotton" if it was included in the previous year's Condemnation Reserve or the Great Plains Program. If the allotment was released to the ASC County Committee for re-appportionment to other farms, or if the county committee determines that planting was prevented by a natural disaster or illness of a farmer or operator or producer.

If at least 75 per cent of the previous year's regular farm allotment was not planted (or regarded as planted) to cotton, the base in determining future farm allotments will be reduced to the acreage of: (1) the regular allotment for that year, and (2) the acreage planted or regarded as planted in that year.

Farm cotton allotments for 1960 may not be less than the smaller of 10 acres or the 1958 farm cotton allotment. However, beginning with 1961, the reduction in the farm base—if 75 per cent of the previous year's allotment was not planted or regarded as planted—will apply to all farm cotton allotments regardless of their size. Thus, small cotton farms are guaranteed an allotment equal to 10 acres or the 1958 farm allotment only if the 75 per cent planting requirement is met each year.

Farmers releasing cotton allotment acreage may not designate the farm to which the ASC County Committee reapportions the acreage. Present law, likewise, does not authorize a farmer to sell or lease a cotton allotment to another farmer.

Acreage planted or regarded as planted to cotton on a farm is credited to the state and county for purposes of future state and county allotments.

Band Day Scheduled For Dec. 19

Band Booster's Day was postponed last week due to rainy weather. It is now set for Saturday, the 19th of December. The Band Parents' Club, with Lee Witte as president, is sponsoring this campaign to raise funds for the equipment and uniforms needed for the expanding band program.

Next year there will be seventy young people in the Blue Devil Band, over twice the size of last year, and half again larger than this year. To keep pace with the increasing size, additional instruments and uniforms must be purchased. All the proceeds from the month of February, would be used for these purchases.

Parents will be at tables on each bank corner, all day Saturday, and will accept donations from all who wish to express their appreciation for the marching and playing performances by the Blue Devil Band.

For every donation of one dollar or more, a specially made Band Booster's Day will be given, to be placed on a car window, or store window.

"While you do your Christmas shopping this Saturday, come by the Band Booster table and help support your Blue Devil Band," said Mr. Witte.

Senior Citizens Met Tuesday

The Senior Citizens group met again Tuesday, December 8 from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m. at the Fair Road Center. A very inspiring devotional was given by Rev. Miles C. Wood of the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Sara Adams recited "The Night Before Christmas" accompanied by Miss Lynn Collins at the piano. The Misses Jean NeSmith and Cathy Owen sang "Winter Wonderland" and "White Christmas," accompanied by Miss Lynn Collins at the piano.

Officers elected as follows: Miss Janie Jones, president, and Mrs. L. T. Denmark, vice president.

Assisting with the program were Mrs. Bob Mikel and Mrs. Osborne Banks. Plans are being made for a Christmas party on Tuesday, December 22, from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m., and all senior citizens are invited to attend. All who come are asked to bring a gift to go under the tree. No gift is to cost more than $1.00.

Any one desiring to come and does not have transportation, please call Mrs. Don Russell, 4-2650 or Mrs. Elaine Hulst, 4-2014. The Senior Women's Club is helping with the transportation.

C. Of C. To Sponsor STAR

Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the 1959-60 Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition Program for the Bulloch County school system. It was announced by Paul Beckwith, Union Bag-Camp Paper Corporation of Savannah, First District chairman of the STAR program.

The success of this program to encourage scholastic achievement and to honor Georgia's teaching profession lies largely with local enthusiasm for the overall program," said Harry C. Melton, Jr., chairman of the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce education department. "As students and teachers realize their community recognizes and appreciates their efforts, the result will be a strengthening of educational standards throughout Georgia."

"For that reason," he added, "the local Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for its participation and sponsorship of the STAR program."

STAR students in this area and throughout Georgia will be determined by scores made on the annual College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test. Each young person named as STAR student will be asked to name the active citizen or teacher who, in the student's opinion, made the greatest contribution to his or her scholastic achievement. This selection will be named STAR teachers in the American and 4-H pledges.

A very inspiring devotional was given by Carl Godbee.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Annette Mitchell. For the program, Mrs. Patsy Posa, Cheryl Hughes, Ralph Simmons, Gordon Anderson and Judy NeSmith.

Mrs. Davis presented the club health certificate of honor for the school. Mrs. Peebles gave each book to all the members and then told when they were due in the school.

Mrs. Davis talked to the girls about record books. Mary Alice Becher gave her demonstration in cotton and its uses, in which she made hats.

Mrs. Peebles talked to the boys about feeding pigs.

Carbon Monoxide Dangerous

(By Charles T. Brown, M. D., Medical Director, Health Dist. 7)

It has come to our attention that eleven deaths have been reported in three states from carbon monoxide in travel trailers equipped with defective bottled gas. It is believed that some 2,000 other trailers are also equipped with heaters with the same defect.

Information from the U. S. Public Health Service states that the potential deadly heaters have been installed in state trailer parks and will be open all day for the rest of the long holiday period.

At all three centers young people can enjoy playing records, watching TV, reading, dancing, playing monopoly and other like games. For the more active ones activities include basketball, football, skating, horseshoes, ping pong, volleyball, table tennis, and tennis.

All scheduled sports activities will continue as planned. All have a firm with an opening of 30 inches by 11 inches, but this model has not been implicated in the deaths reported to date.

If any of the subject heaters are found, it is advisable that they be used only if inspected and found safe by proper authorities. While the eleven deaths have occurred in recent weeks in New York, Michigan and South Dakota, officials of the State Health Department state that there is definite possibility that these heaters may be installed in trailers located in Georgia. The Indiana Department of Public Health has indicated that shipments have been traced to states bordering Georgia.

Rabies Program Is Success

(By Chas. T. Brown, M. D., Medical Director, Health Dist. 7)

During the month of August, 1959 our local health department met with Mayor Bill Bowen, E. W. Barnes, Leodel Coleman, Shields Kennan and Don McDougald and plans outlined to make the city of Statesboro safe from rabies.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of E. W. Barnes and Dent Newton assisted in the rabies program by a dog census and this was done during the week of August 10 as "Operation Dog." A house to house canvass was made and all dogs in the city limits were counted. The census included puppies and stray dogs found on the streets within the city limits.

A complete report of this survey together with follow up will be made by the health department to the local health department recently for study. After careful study the report will be made to the health department.

At the time of survey August 10, approximately 62% of dogs had received anti-rabies treatment.

Following completion of survey and follow up by city officials, 66% dogs had been treated. Of the number receiving treatment 90% have been registered with the city office.

The outstanding results of this survey and follow up would only have been accomplished by the full cooperation and efforts of the citizens, citizens and city officials. We of the health department are just proud of this fine work and are glad to be a part in making our city safe from rabies.

We further feel that the display of good citizenship will be a challenge to other cities as large numbers of untreated dogs could lead to a rabies outbreak resulting from indifference and apathy of responsible citizens.

Planting Affects Allotment

How recent legislation affects the determination of farm cotton allotment for future years was explained today by John P. Bradley, Administrative Officer for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office.

For 1961 and future years, according to Bradley, the new law requires that, in determining farm cotton allotments, the farm cotton allotment for the preceding year shall be used as the "base" if at least 75 per cent of the farm allotment for that year was planted to cotton or regarded as planted to cotton. Therefore, the acreage planted to cotton or regarded as planted to cotton for 1960 must be at least 75 per cent of the regular (Choice A) farm allotment to preserve the entire allotment as a base for 1961.

Acres may be "recovered as planted to cotton" if it was included in the previous year's Condemnation Reserve or the Great Plains Program. If the allotment was released to the ASC County Committee for re-appportionment to other farms, or if the county committee determines that planting was prevented by a natural disaster or illness of a farmer or operator or producer.

If at least 75 per cent of the previous year's regular farm allotment was not planted (or regarded as planted) to cotton, the base in determining future farm allotments will be reduced to the acreage of: (1) the regular allotment for that year, and (2) the acreage planted or regarded as planted in that year.

Farm cotton allotments for 1960 may not be less than the smaller of 10 acres or the 1958 farm cotton allotment. However, beginning with 1961, the reduction in the farm base—if 75 per cent of the previous year's allotment was not planted or regarded as planted—will apply to all farm cotton allotments regardless of their size. Thus, small cotton farms are guaranteed an allotment equal to 10 acres or the 1958 farm allotment only if the 75 per cent planting requirement is met each year.

Farmers releasing cotton allotment acreage may not designate the farm to which the ASC County Committee reapportions the acreage. Present law, likewise, does not authorize a farmer to sell or lease a cotton allotment to another farmer.

Acreage planted or regarded as planted to cotton on a farm is credited to the state and county for purposes of future state and county allotments.
